Oliver Tickets Sell Out Ahead of Opening Night

By Jean Perry

If the Marion Art Center had sold tickets for its annual Halloween Parade, it would have sold out of those immediately, judging by the what seemed to be over a thousand people out on the sunny afternoon of Halloween.

It seems the MAC can't avoid it these days, with its community-based events and performances that have been hits within the community.

The MAC's latest success is the selling out of Above & On the Cover: The Marion Art Center's sold out performances of "Oliver" over the coming weekend will feature a stellar cast, including Tom Giammalvo as Fagin, Nolan Gibbons as Oliver, Shonna Neitz as Nancy, and Eddie Gonet as the Artful Dodger. tickets to its production of Oliver, well ahead of Opening Night on Thursday, November 3.

If you didn't reserve your tickets ahead of time, you are out of luck this weekend. The 7:00 pm performances on November 3-5, as well as the 2:00 matinee on Sunday, November 6, are all sold out.

"We are so excited about it," said Jamie Lynn Wiksten, director of the production. "When we announced that we were doing this show, we were thrilled to hear from the community how excited they were."

Wiksten said MAC members took advantage of the pre-sale before tickets were released to the public, and the remaining tickets sold out within 20 minutes.

"The Marion Art Center is so excited to see how excited the community is about this production," said Wiksten.

There are 25 cast members, with some of them playing more than one role, which Wiksten said is amazing to her since so many of them are easily able to play a number of diverse roles with such ease.

"They've done a great job coming together as a cast and an ensemble playing multiple roles," said Wiksten.

Playing the part of Fagin, Tom Giammalvo of Fairhaven is no stranger to the stage. After a period of about 20 years off the stage, Giammalvo is back on the community theater stage and, according to Wiksten, he is "phenomenal."

"He plays the part to perfection," Wiksten said.

Eleven-year-old Nolan Gibbs, a resident of Marion and sixth-grader at Sippican School, plays Oliver in his first Marion Art Center performance.

"We were thrilled to have him," said Wiksten.

"He has a beautiful voice, is a talented actor, and has mastered the part of Oliver. I can't wait for the community to see him."

Playing the part of Nancy is Shonna Neitz of Providence. Neitz not only has experience with theater, but she has grown close to her character, or rather grown into her character of Nancy simply because she has played the part in the musical in the past with another theater group.

"She is absolutely wonderful in this role," said Wiksten.

MAC production, playing the part of the Artful Dodger.

"We're thrilled to have him. He's done a marvelous job as the Artful Dodger," said Wiksten.

The musical production has been enhanced, said Wiksten, by the sponsorship of MAC member Barbara Gee, who donated the funds to cover the cost of the costume rental from a theater company in Virginia.

"The costumes are so authentic and true to each character," said Wiksten. "[Gee's] sponsorship was just such a wonderful asset to the show and we couldn't have done it without her. I'm so thankful."

now that the ban issued on October 7 has been lifted.

The Massachusetts Division of Marine and Fisheries officially lifted the ban as of noon on October 31 after analysis results showed that the toxin-emitting phytoplankton bloom that has plagued Buzzards Bay waters for over three weeks has now dissipated.

In an October 31 letter issued to various towns surrounding Buzzards Bay, Mass DMF Director David Pierce wrote, "Upon further inspection, the [DMF] has determined that the potentially toxic phytoplankton bloom of Pseudonitzschia sp. In the waters of Mount Hope Bay, Buzzards Bay, Vineyard Sound, Nantucket Sound and the south shore of Cape Cod, which can cause Amnesic Shellfish Poisoning (ASP), has dissipated."

Toxicity screening of shellfish samples completed by Bigelow Laboratory for Ocean Sciences in Amine, as well as DMF labs, concluded that shellfish from the specified areas were now safe for human consumption.

The toxic bloom had closed shellfishing in the region, except for bay scallops, sea scallops, and whelks.

Grassi Bog at Another Standstill

Marion Board of Selectmen

By Jean Perry

Just when the town thought it was going to move past its ongoing Grassi Bog restoration project situation, "the saga continues," as Marion Town Administrator Paul Dawson put it.

The Grassi Bog property, under the control of the Marion Open Space Acquisition Commission, had just finally received its final approval for a third amendment to its plan – about three years after the spillway system failed during a rainstorm – but now the project has hit another snag: bids for the project came in far above available funding.

The lowest bid, according to Dawson, was for $63,500, while the highest bid was for $161,500. The problem, Dawson told the Board of Selectmen on November 1, is that the project has only $47,823 to spend.

"Which will require us to reject all bids because there is insufficient funding," said Dawson.

Apparently, Dawson stated, the cost estimate produced by the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS), a federal agency, did not factor in the mandated prevailing wages for municipal contracts.

It will take about another month or so to secure further funding to repair the water retention system at Grassi Bog, although Dawson said he has been assured the funding would be forthcoming.

"But, unfortunately, we will miss the construction season," Dawson said.

In other matters, Dawson said a title search on the VFW property has been completed, and now a hazardous materials assessment will soon be underway before proceeding further in the process of officially acquiring the VFW building, which was approved during the Special Town Meeting on October 24.

"Once that is all complete, Town Counsel is developing a deed to the property," said Dawson. "We would then be ready to close on the property and take ownership."

In other news, Christopher Berg and Donna Hemphill, representing the Town Party Committee, presented a check to the Marion Firefighters Association for $3,967.20 from the profits generated by this year's Marion Town Party.

Berg told the selectmen that a check for the same amount was issued to the Marion Recreation Department.

"We are fortunate that we were able to do this, and we look forward to doing it for many years to come," said Berg.

Also during the meeting, the selectmen approved the placement of a little library outside the Marion Music Hall. Charles Bradley, who built the small cabinet-like structure himself, requested having it placed at the Music Hall because of the accessibility to the public.

"It's pretty neat," said Selectman Steve Gonsalves.

In other business, the selectmen voted to grant Planning Board member Jennifer Francis' request that the Board of Selectmen transfer its allotted 20 hours of annual consultation time with SRPEDD to the Planning Board to use as consultation time towards the Master Plan.

The town gets 40 hours of SRPEDD consultation per year as part of its membership, with the hours being split evenly between the Planning Board and the Board of Selectmen.

"I think it's a reasonable request," said Gonsalves.

"We don't have any plans for it," said Selectman Stephen Cushing, "it's just going to go to waste."

Mattapoisett Schools Planning Tighter Security

Mattapoisett Finance Committee

By Marilou Newell

In the lead up to Fall Town Meeting on November 21, Mattapoisett's Finance Committee has been meeting with department heads. And although it appears as if the warrant will be light on articles, conducting the financial business of the town remains in high gear.

Meeting with the committee members led by Town Administrator Michael Gagne was School Facilities Director Gene Jones. In what Gagne called a "housekeeping" move, monies previously allocated for the school roof repairs will be redirected to purchase additional security cameras and to build security vestibules in Center and Old Hammondtown Schools.

Jones explained that although front door access at the schools is presently by buzz-in only, once a person gains interior entry, there is nothing stopping full access to the entire school building.

"Once a person is buzzed in, they can go anywhere," Jones said.

The new vestibules will contain visitors near the front doors until staff clears them for full entry.

Several committee members voiced strong concern that the Council on Aging is located in the Center School building and that restrooms used by adults are positioned next to restrooms used by students. Finance Committee member Paul Amoruso asked why the COA was in the school saying, "It shouldn't be there." He voiced longstanding concern about the location of the COA and now the Recreation Department is currently headquartered in vacant classrooms near the student restrooms. Gagne responding to his concerns by asking, "Where should we put it?"

Gagne said that he agreed the location of the COA entrance was not "comfortable" and that the bathrooms used by COA visitors and staff weren't isolated from the corridor used by students and teachers.

Jones said he had been looking into securing the double doors near the COA entrance to prevent someone from being buzzed in at that location and accessing the school, but that didn't resolve the issue of restrooms. There aren't any restroom facilities on the second floor where the COA is located.

Clearly that issue would not be resolved easily and the committee agreed that the new security vestibules would be a good investment towards protecting the students. Jones said that construction would take place during the February vacation.

Jones also informed the committee that 32 additional security cameras would be installed at Center and Hammondtown Schools, and that the police would have authorized access during emergency incidents.

Gagne explained that the $60,000 needed for these security updates would be moved from the roof repair column, that the school department would not be asking for new monies, and that the roof repairs would be planned for FY18.

Regarding security upgrades at the junior high school, Jones said those would start in June.

Also meeting with the committee members was Water and Sewer Superintendent Henri Renaud. Renaud presented a spreadsheet that illustrated a FY17 versus FY16 budget for sewer treatment and explained why he is planning an increase.

The FY17 budget remained static year-over-year at $350,000, but Renaud explained that Mattapoisett's sewer treatment portion would increase to 13.4 percent, with a daily flow increase of 40 percent. He said that due to drought conditions, "I and I impacts the system."

I and I stand for infiltration and inflow. I and I create a dilution in systems that decrease the efficiency of sewer treatment in turn causing volumes to increase. Renaud said, "Water tables are down, you end up with more costs..."

Renaud said he anticipates a deficit of $64,478 that could be mostly covered by retained earnings.

Winding up the evening was a meeting with Harbormaster Jill Simmons who presented the committee with a packet illustrating potential harborside projects.

Simmons said that once waterfront surpluses had been confirmed, everything was on hold.

The project list contains such items as additional dinghy spaces via floats positioned at the Barstow Street wharf, the piling work at Mello Wharf, a permanent relocation of fire boat at the Barstow Wharf, a new harbormaster 25-foot work boat, the setting of navigational aids in the harbor, and building and placing additional kayak racks.

On the theme of piling repairs, Simmons discussed the serious need to fix problems in "the area known affectionately as Hurricane Alley," as she stated it.

This location between two wharves off Shipyard Park is home to skiffs using a cable system. Simmons said that tides affect the viability of using that location. She suggested dredging the area and replacing pilings.

Simmons also said that she is working with town counsel to determine whether the town or the skiff owner is responsible for ladders affixed to the wharf. She said once legal responsibility is determined, a letter will be sent to boat owners stating terms and conditions.

The Mattapoisett Finance Committee will continue warrant article review on November 3 at 6:30 pm in the town administrator's office and again on either November 9 or 10.

Marion Zoning Board of Appeals

By Jean Perry

David Jenney of 818 Point Road and his attorney John Mathieu were unsuccessful in negotiating an amicable agreement with Jenney's neighbors of The Cove after leaving the last meeting of the Marion Zoning Board of Appeals earlier in October.

Jenney's neighbor, Bill Notman of 414 Point Road, was assisting Jenney as a liaison between the two parties, but on October 27, Notman told the board that president of The Cove Homeowner's Association Landis Major refused to meet to discuss the matter.

Notman told Major he wanted to see the parties discuss hours that The Cove residents would find agreeable for Jenney to do his firewood cutting on his property, how large of a wood pile they would approve, and the promise that Jenney would keep his equipment use as quiet as possible.

"He said he did not want to do that," said Notman.

According to Notman, Major told him that one Cove resident claimed to have sold their property a few months back and lost $70,000 on their sale price, blaming Jenney's presence at his Point Road property for the alleged loss.

Later in the meeting, some board members commented that the $70,000 figure was "hard to believe," and unquantifiable.

"[Notman] did try to talk to me," replied Major. "My unwillingness to talk to him is based on what the large number of Cove residents have told me ... that they did not want to negotiate with him and that's the only reason I did not want to meet."

Major said there is "no doubt" that Jenney is running a business on his residential zone property that should be grandfathered under the subsequent zoning bylaw because, since the inception of The Cove in 1997 until 2012, "There was never to anyone's knowledge any sign of firewood either for personal or commercial use ... on their land."

"No town resident has the right to say that zoning laws apply to you but not to them," said Major, "and that's what we feel is being done at this time."

Major cautioned the board on opening a Pandora's box.

"You make one exception and all control is lost," Major said.

Mathieu argued that under the current bylaws, Jenney's firewood processing on his property was no different than a farm stand exempt from the bylaw, citing Massachusetts General Law. Furthermore, he said, under the home occupation section, a homeowner is allowed under 2,000 square feet of workspace connected to a skilled trade "without substantially continuous employment."

Building Inspector Scott Shippey strongly disagreed and the two men argued their points, sometimes at the same time. Shippey urged Mathieu to read the regulations in their entirety instead of "taking the parts that fit your needs."

When the chairman of the board suggested continuing the public hearing again, Mrs. Jenney said out loud, "Oh my God, are you crazy?"

ZBA member Betsy Dunn said, "I think we need to continue it because we need [town counsel] to unravel this for us."

"This seems small," said Chairman Marc LeBlanc, "but in the long run down the road, this is a biggie."

The hearing was continued until November 10.

Conservation Commission Discusses Shooting Range

Rochester Conservation Commission

By Andrea Ray

Under acting Chairman Rosemary Smith (Michael Conway and John Teal both being absent for the meeting), the Rochester Conservation Commission opened its November 1 meeting as final board member Daniel Gagne hurried into the room.

Brian Grady of G.A.F. Engineering was on hand at the meeting for a simple discussion with the commission representing Steve and Sarabeth Morrell, who are interested in a property off of County Road.

"Steve wants to purchase a piece of property, but we're looking for your guidance," he explained. "We want to make sure that what he can do is appropriate and approved before he invests too much into this."

Morrell then stood up and explained his reasoning.

"I'd like to establish a firing range for the property located behind SEMASS," he said. "I've been involved in federal law enforcement for years, and I've been a firearms instructor since I was nineteen. I teach everyone from casual shooters to police and military special operations shooters. This has always been a dream that my wife and I have kicked around, and a business that we'd like to run together.

Morrell continued, "It would be a private endeavor with small-scale training for law enforcement and the military. I just don't want to get too far into this if it isn't feasible."

Morrell explained that the property was formerly used as a sand lot, and sand was carted away frequently, degrading the soil and scraping it below the waterline.

"It's already a degraded property," he pointed out, "and there's not much you can do with it. It's 2.3 acres; it will be small and closed off."

"How are you going to protect the wetlands with the range there?" asked Kevin Cassidy.

"My plan is to build 20-foot high backstops, using an existing berm which is heavily vegetated already. There will be eight-foot thick barriers made of the same material, which protects soldiers in Iraq from car bombs. It basically creates a nine-foot tall box to shoot out of," Morrell explained.

Cassidy also questioned Morrell about lead leaching from the ammunition.

"Well, if you're on top of lead recovery and maintaining soil pH levels, lead never really becomes an issue," Morrell replied. Cassidy told him that they would expect to see a detailed lead-removal plan for the property when it properly came before the Conservation Commission.

Conservation Agent Laurell Farinon noted, "As more shooting ranges have moved into town, there have been a lot of complaints from neighbors. They're not conservation-based complaints, just ... human-based. I think there is an opportunity here, and if it is done well, with a solid plan, it can be done."

"I'm not opposed to it. I don't think any of us are opposed to it, but we'll need a wetlands plan," Smith told Morrell, giving him a note of confidence before the meeting was adjourned.

Also during the meeting, Jonathan Alexandre filed a Notice of Intent for property located at 127 Mary's Pond Road. Alexandre was looking to remove fill placed within the wetland resource area and 25-foot No Disturb Zone and to restore the areas with a conservation wetland seed mix.

He also requested that the removed fill be allowed to remain outside of the 25-foot zone, stabilized by loaming and planting of grass.

Alexandre and his representative, Nick Dufresne, were on hand at the meeting as Dufresne pointed out plans, which had been revised since the last meeting.

"The revisions aren't very significant," Dufresne pointed out. "The material within the 25-foot No Disturb Zone will be used as a turtle nesting habitat. There will be a demarcation of the border between the wetland zone and the No Disturb Zone. Currently the property owners are thinking a line of boulders."

The board, having heard the clarifications, approved the Notice of Intent.

The next meeting of the Rochester Conservation Commission will be held on Tuesday, November 15, at 7:00 pm in the Rochester Town Hall.

Grassi Bog Project Granted Another Amendment

Marion Conservation Commission

By Jean Perry

Three years after a major rainstorm washed out the spillway system at Grassi Bog and caused flooding to abutting properties, it appears the reconstruction of the spillways will finally get underway now that a second amendment to the Order of Conditions of the approved plan has been approved.

Marion Open Space Acquisition Commission Chairman John Rockwell updated the Conservation Commission on October 26 on the latest changes to the plan, which include a significant increase in the size of a culvert – from a 7-foot 3-inch by 5-foot 11-inch culvert to an 8-foot 5-inch by 5-foot 11-inch culvert. Another proposed change is to substitute naturally found bedding materials instead of the original "synthetic geotechnical fabric."

Rockwell said MOSAC acquired some additional grant money to help fund the larger pipe and substitution of natural gravel.

One structure that was originally slated for removal back in 2012 was also left in place because of the cost to remove it, the fact that it was right at the edge of the pond, and the excavation would have resulted in a 10-foot deep hole.

"Which was probably not the smartest thing to do because the dyke could actually let go," Rockwell said. "We decided to just fill in what had been broken up and leave that ... [and] I think if [the structure] wasn't there, that spillway would've washed out that dyke and we would've had a catastrophic ... flooding situation."

Although the commission was poised to approve the project, Conservation Commission member Norman Hills had some concluding comments about the plans that have now been revised three times.

"I still have a problem with this," said Hills, referring to the fact that the aforementioned structure was still not marked on the plan. "But we need to get this project on the road.... At this point in time, we need to get the damned job done. After all the time and effort that people have looked at it, they still couldn't get it right."

Drama Season Hits Tabor

Tabor Academy Update

By Jack Gordon

At Tabor, it is rare when preparations are not taking place for some type of theatrical production. Throughout the next two weeks, Tabor Academy students will be presenting two separate drama performances on campus.

The first performance is The Nine Worst Breakups of All Time, a comedy that takes the audience from the times of the first humans to modern-day society, highlighting some of the worst breakups ever. The show is directed by John Heavey, who also directs the Winter Musical at Tabor. The show will be performed from Thursday, November 3 to Saturday, November 5.

"We're breaking out some new talent and hey, we've all been through a breakup," joked Heavey.

The second performance is The Laramie Project, a play that follows the reaction to the brutal 1998 murder of Matthew Shepard, a gay University of Wyoming student, in Laramie, Wyoming. The script is the result of hundreds of interviews with the people of Laramie throughout the year following the murder. Mark Howland and assistant director Duhita Das, a senior at Tabor, direct the show. This show will be performed from Thursday, November 10 to Saturday, November 12.

"It's opened my eyes to the horrors that exist in the world, and that this could have happened anywhere, which is the scariest part and makes the play so much more real and personal," said Das.

The cast and crew from The Laramie Project will continue working on the performance throughout the winter, preparing to showcase it at Ellesmere College in England and at other locations around the region in spring of 2017.

This trip is part of a Tabor/Ellesmere College Drama Exchange program that began in 1994 and has operated on a two-year cycle since 2002. Tabor last traveled to England in 2015 when they performed The Secret in the Wings, an adaptation of lesser-known Grimm fairy tales that are told inside of a larger tale. The exchange will also bring a group of students from Ellesmere College to Tabor in April, who will perform for the Tabor community during their stay.

The actors and crew for both shows participate in the plays as an afterschool activity, in lieu of a sport. Each day, students gather to rehearse lines, block scenes, and take part in the full range of preparations for the upcoming performances. The plays are performed in the smaller Black Box Theater, allowing the connection between the actors and the audience to be much more intimate. Having a smaller cast allows each member of the cast to have a significant role in all aspects of the drama.

Both performances will be in the Will Parker Black Box Theater, upstairs in Hoyt Hall at Tabor. All the

At Tabor, drama continues throughout the remainder of the school year. During the winter season, the school presents two dramatic performances. The main performance – the annual Winter Musical – is Tabor's largest theatrical performance each year. This winter, the school will present the popular romantic comedy Grease. The second will be a black box play performed in February, just a week after the musical.

In the spring, the drama scene will transition to the One Acts, short black box plays directed by upperclassmen students that are typically rehearsed in the actors' free time in the evenings.

All the performances throughout the year are immensely popular, filling the black box theater or the main Hoyt stage each night of the production with audience members from the Tabor and local communities.

Tuesday continued the fun with Twin Day. Friends parodied each other or even came together in strange costumes such as Tweedledee and Tweedledum.

Breast Cancer Awareness Day took place on Wednesday. Students arrived decked out in pink shirts, pants, shoes, and tutus, and faces and arms were decorated with pink paint. Old Colony really went all out in showing support for those fighting the disease.

Pajama Day came along on Thursday's half day. Students enjoyed cozy onesies and big fuzzy pajama pants while teachers prepared for that afternoon's parent-teacher conferences.

Finally, the week peaked on Friday with the pep rally and class color day. Each grade dressed in its representative color and attended a pep rally for the OC sports.

The pep rally was run by the athletic program fall sport team captains, who were acknowledged at the rally, along with each player. As always, it featured silly games for the audience as well as the appearance of the OC Cougar.

SkillsUSA even came through on their promise to tape a teacher to a wall for their coin wars fundraiser. Mr. Pedrosa ended up taped on the wall where a lucky trick-or-treating environment.

Students arrived at 5:00 pm and decorated their cars as anything from Candyland, to witches houses, to fortuneteller booths. They hung streamers and lights from their hoods or sat pumpkins on the trunk. They set up games for the kids and also a large wooden frame made by carpentry and decorated by the graphics shop.

At 6:00 pm, the trick-or-treaters slowly trickled in dressed in their fantastic costumes, but by 6:30 pm there were dozens excitedly walking around for candy treats and games.

Gleeful shrieks pierced the night from the scream contest table. Teachers and students also dressed in costume to the amusement of the kids. Even as the night got dark, the event continued on lit by lanterns and streetlights.

By the end of the night, everyone had gathered more than enough candy and the children and their parents went back home. A special thanks to Heather Gifford, Marcy Gamelin, and the Old Colony Honor Society for making this event possible.

Tilley (third, 17:38), Adam Silvia (fourth, 17:50), Geoffrey Noonan (sixth, 17:57) and James Goulart (11th, 18:09) led the Bulldogs to winning their first SCC title since 2000.

Field Hockey: The girls had a great week to finish off their regular season. On Monday, they faced Somerset Berkley in an intense scoreless game of 0-0. Gates Tenerowitz had an amazing game in net for the Bulldogs with some key saves to keep the girls in it. Despite the scoreless game, the girls were able to put three in the back of the net on Friday in their last regular season game against Dartmouth. The final outcome was 3-0 with goals from Arisa Francis (2), and Sophia Church.

Volleyball: The girls' volleyball team played their last three games of the season this week against some tough teams. Unfortunately, the girls lost their first two games on Monday and Wednesday against Case and New Bedford, but they redeemed themselves on Thursday with a win against Sturgis West. The Lady Bulldogs won three out of the three sets with good efforts from Emma Collings and Natalia Wierzbicki to end the season on a high note.

Boys' Soccer: The boys started off the week strong with a 2-1 win against Case on Monday. Ben Lafrance and Pat Cummings scored the goals for the Bulldogs with assists from Tim Dix and Alex Souza. Thomas Browning also had a notable game, which led the Bulldogs to the win. On Wednesday, the boys played in a scoreless game against Apponequet, and they ended up with another tie on Thursday against Cape Cod Regional Tech. Unfortunately on Saturday, the Bulldogs lost by one goal (1-0) to Bishop Stang to make the Bulldogs 6-8-6 in the regular season.

Girls Soccer: On Monday, the girls faced Case with a 6-0 victory. Katelyn Bindas, Jillian Kutash, Meg Hughes, Mary Butler, Maddie Cooney and Ava Ciffolillo each put one in net for the Bulldogs to take the win. The girls claimed another victory on Tuesday against Diman Regional Voc-Tech with a score of 3-1. Unfortunately, they lost Wednesday's game against New Bedford 7-1 and Saturday's game against Dighton Rehoboth 1-0.

Football: In the Division 3 South Quarterfinals, tough competitor Dighton-Rehoboth gave the Bulldogs

To The Editor:

The question of whether to renovate the Marion Town House at great expense (north of $12 million is great expense, in my opinion) or to build a much less expensive modern facility to house some municipal services is in the hands of the Marion selectmen and the Town House Building Committee. I don't believe that posterity – meaning the families of our children – will approve of us valuing historic preservation above the needs of them and their children.

Elizabeth Taber gave the building that was her Tabor Academy to the town, as a gift. She had built a beautiful building, because she believed that education was worth it. However, when that building no longer met the Academy's needs, it was, to her, just surplus, something to be handed along. I can't imagine that she would be happy if we – her posterity – proved we did not learn from her example, that we did not focus on the functions of government and diverted our tax money to preserve what she had declared surplus.

I join with the many other Marion citizens in urging that the renovation of the Town House be put on a back burner, and the THBC develop a plan for a new administrative center and facilities, located on the VFW property. Furthermore, on behalf of that posterity I was talking about, I ask that the THBC charge the planners, architects, and engineers of the new building(s) to make provision for the advanced technologies that, in the near future, will bring greater efficiencies and economies to town services. Historic preservation is a wonderful thing, but it's an unaffordable luxury until we can be sure that the basics are covered.

Marion Cub Scout Pack 32, Marion Boy Scouts Troop 32, Marion Police Department and the Marion Police Brotherhood have once again partnered up to support those in need. Neighborhoods with scouts living in them will receive a yellow door hanger asking for donations of food for a local food bank. Scouts will be picking these up on Saturday, November 5 starting at 8:00 am. Please place the yellow hanger clearly on these items so the scout will know they are for the Scouting for Food program. Those who do not have one of the over 40 scouts in town living in their neighborhood can bring their donations to the Marion Police Department up until November 11 at 11:00am. On Veterans Day, after the ceremony, the scouts will bring these items to a local pantry in our community.

Animal Advice

Jay Gould, DVM

I realize that I should take my cat to the vet annually to get a physical and whatever vaccinations may be due, but getting the cat into the cat carrier is a chore. Any hints?

Cats are not dumb. If they see the cat carrier come out they disappear. Some cats don't mind the carrier if it is left out all year round. Feed them in the carrier, allow them to nap in it, let it be associated with more pleasant experiences than a car ride.

If you haven't gotten the cat to think positively about the carrier, put the cat in a bathroom prior to getting the carrier out of the basement. That way the cat can't disappear. Bring the carrier into the bathroom and keep the door closed so the cat won't escape. Feliway is a pheromone that may decrease your cat's anxiety when it is sprayed or wiped on the carrier.

Tabor To Host Fall Dance Recital

Don't miss the Tabor Academy Fall Dance Recital on November 11 at 6:30 pm in the Fireman Center for the Performing Arts at Tabor Academy at 235 Front Street, Marion. This year, the dance team is 23 strong! The students will perform five routines: a theatre routine to "Mein Herr" from Cabaret; a contemporary acrobatic style routine to "Heroes" by David Bowie; a tap routine to "Bust a Move"; a hip hop breakdancing routine; and a ballet routine. Also, there will be many solos and duets.

Tabor is happy to partner with outside students and studios for this performance. Performing with Tabor students in this recital are Cam Decas from Salem State University and Turning Pointe, a studio that is competing in the youth American Grand Prix, a prestigious ballet and contemporary competition in Boston, and also representing Massachusetts in Dance Excellence.

Last spring was one of the strongest years yet for Tabor's competitive Dance Team. They received platinum awards at all three competitions they attended and first place awards for hip hop, jazz and contemporary routines. It was the first year Tabor had received platinum awards, the highest award available at dance competitions. The team also received judge's choice awards, and a choreography award for their contemporary number. The team won first place overall out of all routines at their final competition.

With some new dancers joining the team from all over the world, the talent is continuing to be driven forward and their passion is very clear in their performances.

MOVIE REVIEW

Living Dead Girl

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

Kate Plays Christine*. Starring Kate Lyn Sheil. Directed by Robert Greene. Running time: 112 minutes. No MPAA rating; R equivalent for language. Showing at the Brattle Theatre in Cambridge from November 4.

At the beginning and end of Kate Plays Christine, as the lead actress Kate (Kate Lyn Sheil) is prepped by make-up artists to film her character's suicide, I think we're meant to remember Maria Falconetti in The Passion of Joan of Arc. Kate wears a wig cap that makes her look bald, and her expression bespeaks despair in expectation of doom, yet relief that the despair will be over soon. The image is allusive and electric, an anomaly in an otherwise rigidly interiorized film with bland visuals to match. Kate Plays Christine is a sort of documentary, or a mockumentary (though mostly laughless), about an actress researching her role in a movie that doesn't exist outside of the movie being made about it.

The role is Christine Chubbuck, a Florida TV reporter who was notorious for a while back in 1974, when she put a gun to the back of her head and pulled the trigger while sitting at her newsdesk on live television. She prefaced her act with this deathless contemptuous snark: "In keeping with Channel 40's policy of bringing you the latest in blood and guts, and in living color, you are going to see another first — attempted suicide." That's some heavy-duty nihilism, and Chubbuck, cast from the same dark mold as Susan Sontag and Anne Sexton, had a hooded and harrowed look. Some people are unreachable; nobody was ever going to reach this woman or get behind those pained, inward-focused eyes.

For whatever reason, Chubbuck's story — a lonely woman, a virgin at 29, driven to public self-execution by the demons she heard gibbering in her head after sundown — has inspired two films this year, the other being Christine, a more conventionally structured biopic. Kate Plays Christine questions its own existence and, by extension, that of any movie that presumes to speak for the dead, or any male director who tries to interpret a female subject. The writer-director Robert Greene likes to play with format and interrogate performance, and his work here is no different. He uses Chubbuck's tragedy and Kate's immersion in it as a way to critique the inherent voyeurism of movie-watching as well as the inherent exploitative nature of moviemaking.

We watch Kate, an earnest 31-year-old actress with soft, sad features, drift around doing research and asking questions. Kate is convincing as this meta-version of herself, but the footage we see from the movie in which she plays Christine looks — intentionally? — amateurish. Greene may be saying that this flat, clumsy footage, or something like it, is the natural result of any attempt to trap the wildness of true experience in the amber of narrative. This may all sound intriguing on paper, but in practice it's often dull and strained, and we get the queasy sense that this woman, likable enough, is beating herself up doing something that Kate Plays Christine essentially says is not worth doing.

Whatever the intentions, Kate steeped herself in morbid homework, reading up on suicide, buying a gun from the same place that sold Chubbuck her gun, swimming in (and ruining her wig in) the same waters that Chubbuck swam in. In brief, the movie answers any possible criticism of itself by pre-emptively including that criticism in its DNA. In the end, Kate profanely sums up the movie's own self-hatred and lashes out at its audience for good measure. Boy, she sure told us. This, at least, feels true to the saturnine Christine Chubbuck, but it still gives us nothing about her except the surface. For all its self-aware shame, the movie doesn't have the stones to ask the biggest question: if making a movie and performing a role with a suicide at its center is morally dodgy and not worth doing, what then makes it worth watching?

any loose pucks to the corner in the defensive zone.

Pee Wees: On October 23, Gateway Gladiators Peewees secured an 8-5 win against the Coastal Stars. The first period was a battle with both teams scoring three goals. Ty Rebeiro earned a hat trick with assists from Lucy Murphy on one and Matthew Stone on the second. In the second period, Gateway heated things up, getting four more goals on the board with Stone scoring with an assist by Rebeiro and Rebeiro scoring two goals, one unassisted and another assisted by Matthew Paling. Paling also had a goal, assisted by Rebeiro. In the third period, Rebeiro added one more with assist by Paling.

Gateway Gladiators Peewees took to the ice on Saturday for a face-off versus Weymouth. Late in the first, Stone put Gateway on the board with assist by Thomas Leger and Rebeiro. In the second period, Gateway's offense exploded for six goals: Paling with one assisted by Rebeiro; Rebeiro had an unassisted goal; Leger found the net with assist from Rebeiro; Rebeiro added another assisted from Lucas DeMoranville and Nathan Ribeiro; Ribeiro added one unassisted and another assisted from Sean Pollock. In the third frame, Weymouth was able to keep Gateway from scoring, which left the final score 7-2 in Gateway's favor.

Gladiators Peewees played the South Coast Cyclones on Sunday morning. Gladiators Paling put the Gladiators on the board late in the first, assisted by Rebeiro. Rebeiro also added a goal, unassisted. Gladiators played a great game of smart hockey. Late in the second, Rebeiro added another unassisted goal. Cyclones put the pressure on and were able to get one past goalie Ryker King, but Rebeiro came back and answered with a point assisted from Jacob Hebbel. In the third, both teams played defensive hockey the rest of the way with the game ending 4-1 for Gateway.

Bantams: The Gladiators Bantam team came away with a hard earned 3-1 victory over Weymouth. The Gladiators struck first with Tyler Lovendale beating the Weymouth goalie, assisted by Quirino doCanto. Lovendale would add his second goal in the second period, assisted again by doCanto. Weymouth pulled within one goal, when they put home a rebound. The community. He has been praised by the media, audiences, and fellow musicians for his deep insight, visceral energy, and imaginative programming.

The concert opens with Bernard Herrmann's Psycho Suite, from the infamous 'shower scene' in the classic Hitchcock film. Herrmann's violent string-screams remain one of the most enduring, and terrifying, moments in both music and the movies. Next on the program, award-winning Steinway Artist Diane Walsh joins the orchestra to perform Mozart's Piano Concerto No. 20, highly charged music suffused with drama, poignancy, tenderness, and no shortage of pianistic virtuosity. The program closes with Berlioz's Symphonie fantastique, an obsession-fueled tale of love, betrayal, murder, and (of course) witches. Featuring spectacular orchestration,

TriTOWN HAPPENINGS

The Mattapoissett Lions Club held its first Family Fun Festival at Shipyard Park on Saturday, October 29, featuring some good old-fashioned fun and games. Over 400 people turned out for the event, which included hayrides through the village, a pumpkin patch, and games such as pin the nose on the pumpkin and the corn hole toss. Photos by Jean Perry

We learned about geology vs. paleontology equipment and how fossils are made. We also had a chance to make our own Megladon tooth to take home. The museum also wishes to thank Sarah Porter, and parent volunteers Wendy Copps and Marcia Waldron, for their help during the event. Ask Marion Family Chiropractic

Is there evidence that seniors under chiropractic care have a higher quality of life and health?

Yes, there is a growing body of evidence that supports what many seniors have felt for years – that their life and health is improved with chiropractic care.

Researchers for Topics in Clinical Chiropractic found that for seniors age 75 and over, "Chiropractic users were less likely to have been hospitalized, less likely to have used a nursing home, more likely to report a better health status, more likely to exercise vigorously, and more likely to be mobile in the community. In addition, they were less likely to use prescription drugs." Further supporting this improvement in quality of life, in a study published in the Journal of Manipulative and Physiological Therapeutics found that Medicare patients who had regular chiropractic care "reported making only half the annual number of visits to medical providers compared with the national average for individuals age 65 years and over."

Rochester Police Get Warm and Fuzzy

Members of the Rochester Police Department will be participating in "No Shave November" for the first time this year. Participating officers will make a donation to Home Base, a Red Sox Foundation and Massachusetts General Hospital Program that helps veterans and their families heal from Traumatic Brain Injury, PTSD and related conditions. In return for the donation, the officers will get a waiver for the month of November from the department's strict grooming policy which restricts most facial hair.

No Shave November is a web-based, nonprofit organization devoted to "growing" cancer awareness while raising funds to support cancer prevention, research, education about cancer prevention, as well as aiding those fighting the battle. SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) The pitter-patter of all those Sheep feet means that you're out and about, rushing to get more done. That's fine, but slow down by the weekend so you can heed some important advice.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You're in charge of your own destiny these days, and, no doubt, you'll have that Bull's-eye of yours right on target. But don't forget to make time for family events.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Be prepared for a power struggle that you don't want. Look to the helpful folks around you for advice on how to avoid it without losing the important gains you've made.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Congratulations! You're about to claim your hard-earned reward for your patience and persistence. Now, go out and enjoy some fun and games with friends and family.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) The Big Cat might find it difficult to shake off that listless feeling. But be patient. By week's end, your spirits will perk up and you'll be your perfectly purring self again.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A problem with a co-worker could prove to be a blessing in disguise when a superior steps in to investigate and discovers a situation that could prove helpful to you.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) This is a favorable time to move ahead with your plans. Some setbacks are expected, but they're only temporary. Pick up the pace again and stay with it.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Your creativity is recognized and rewarded. So go ahead and claim what you've earned. Meanwhile, that irksome and mysterious situation soon will be resolved.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A new associate brings ideas that the wise Sagittarian quickly will realize can benefit both of you. Meanwhile, someone from the workplace makes an emotional request.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) It might be a good idea to ease up on that hectic pace and spend more time studying things you'll need to know when more opportunities come later in November.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A relatively quiet time is now giving way to a period of high activity. Face it with the anticipation that it will bring you some well-deserved boons and benefits.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Go with the flow, or make waves? It's up to you. Either way, you'll get noticed. However, make up your own mind. Don't let anyone tell you what choices to make.

Sippican Woman's Club

On Thursday, November 10, the Sippican Woman's Club will take a walking tour down New Bedford's historic County Street with local author and historian Peggi Medeiros. Last year, Peggi presented a program to the club on her recently published book, New Bedford Mansion, in which she described that period "as a time of unimaginable wealth, intellectual ferment and artistic treasures. It was a city of secrets that often became very public scandals that destroyed lives and families."

We will meet at 11:50 am at the Landing Wharf Parking Lot across from the Marion Music Hall and carpool departing at noon for The Wamsutta Club, 427 County Street, New Bedford where we will meet for lunch (choice of 1/2 sandwich & soup or salad with chicken; both entrees will be served with dessert and coffee/tea) at a cost of $15 payable to the Sippican Woman's Club. Forward payment and meal selection to Ellen Johnston, One Reservation Way, Marion, MA 02738 by November 1. Following lunch, we will walk with Peggi.

Traditionally, our club meets on the second Friday of the month, September through March, with our annual meeting on the last Friday in April. Our

TOWN OF MATTAPOISETT MANDATORY WATER USE RESTRICTION

As a result of the continued below normal precipitation and declining groundwater and surface water resources the Town of Mattapoisett is implementing a BAN on NONESSENTIAL OUTSIDE WATER USE. This BAN is in accordance with recommendations by the Massachusetts Office of Energy and Environmental Affairs and Drought Management Task Force. This BAN is necessary to ensure adequate water supply continues to be available for essential public health and fire protection needs. FAILURE TO COMPLY COULD RESULT IN WRITTEN WARNING AND/ OR POSSIBLE FINES.

Nonessential outdoor water use shall mean those uses that are not required:

1. for health or safety reasons;
2. by regulation;
3. for the production of food and fiber;
4. for the maintenance of livestock;
5. to meet the core functions of a business (for example, or irrigation by plant nurseries or agricultural operations as necessary to maintain stock or establish new plantings, wash equipment to prevent damage and/or maintain performance, pest management and plant cooling); or
6. for irrigation by golf courses as necessary to maintain tees and greens, subject to the Town's approval.

Nonessential outdoor water uses that are subject to mandatory restrictions include:

1. Irrigation of lawns via sprinklers or automatic irrigation systems;
2. Washing of vehicles, except in a commercial car wash or as necessary for operator safety or to prevent damage and/or maintain performance of agricultural or construction vehicles or equipment; and
3. Washing of exterior building surfaces, parking lots, driveways or sidewalks, except as necessary to apply paint, preservatives, stucco, pavement or cement.

Exceptions to nonessential outdoor water uses are:

1. Gardens, flowers and ornamental plants by means of a hand-held hose - between the hours of 6AM to 8 AM and 6 PM to 8 PM only
2. Irrigation with harvested and stored storm water runoff between the hours of 6AM to 8 AM and 6 PM to 8 PM only

The following outdoor water uses are subject to review and approval by the Town of Mattapoisett, through its Board of Water and Sewer Commissioners,

- irrigation to establish replanted or reseeded lawn or plantings
- irrigation of newly planted lawns (seeded or sodded) for homes or businesses newly constructed in the previous twelve months;
- Filling of privately owned outdoor pools; and
- irrigation by golf courses as necessary to maintain tees and greens.

Residents who are currently on a private well are encouraged to participate in the current restrictions due to the drought situation across the State.

(3) faith-based ministry was founded. REGAIN does not provide any addiction recovery services for the addict. Its purpose is to form a support network for families and individuals affected by the addiction of a loved one. This is accomplished by helping people REGAIN hope, healing, trust, and power over their lives from the support of others living with the same struggles and difficulties. The REGAIN addiction support group SM meetings are faith-based, observing a no-blame, no-shame policy with all conversations respectfully kept confidential. There is no cost for attending and regional resource materials are provided on recovery programs, family services, education, and faith-based options. Topic demonstrations and trainings are hosted frequently, and prayer is available and voluntary for those needing comfort and strength.

Current REGAIN addiction support group SM meeting location: Mattapoisett (For residents of Mattapoisett, Marion, and Rochester), Council on Aging Room (Center School Building), 17 Barstow Street, Mattapoisett, on the 1st and 3rd Tuesday from 6:00 - 7:30 pm.

For more information: 774-328-6196, e-mail healing@regainsupport.com, Facebook: regain addiction support group.

I Found the Aardvark!

Each week, hidden somewhere in the pages of The Wanderer is a tiny drawing of an aardvark. The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

Once you find the aardvark you can submit your answer online and if you are right you will get Aardvark Points! You can then use these points to get cool Aardvark Prizes!

To enter visit: www.wanderer.com and Click on I Found the Aardvark
In the October 27, 2016 issue the Aardvark was missing! (sorry about that)
